POWERFUL NEW DRIVE OPENED BY YANKS

Meandering Along the Main Stem By WASH FAYETTE

Mark Gorton has an unusual sign in his window on West Court Street that is attracting attention.

You know Mark is remodeling and preparing for a big increase in business after the war is over, so he has closed his business room, smeared whitening over the windows and has workmen busily engaged in remodeling the place.

A big sign displayed in one window reads:

"Preparing for Hitler's Funeral."

Dr. L. L. Pumphrey, well known osteopath, and W. F. Rettig, secretary manager of the First Federal Savings and Loan Association, both of whom wield a mean stick on the golf course, have been "decorated" with medals in recognition of their achievements on the Country Club course the past summer. Each of them having made a hole-in-one.

The decoration consists of a bronze watch charm showing a golfer on one side and with the following inscription on the other: "Hole-in-one medal presented by the makers of U. S. Royal Golf Balls."

A hole in one stroke is the dream of all golfers, but the number who achieve this coveted honor are comparatively few.

History records that the first public school in Fayette County was taught in Madison Township near the present site of Waterloo, in 1809, by Samuel Myers, and I am wondering just where the old log school house was located.

The school in Madison Township was some four years ahead of the first school in Washington C. H., where Samuel Looftborow taught the first school in 1813 near the present Market and Main Street intersection.

The first school house in the city was a log structure 16 by 18 feet. The floor was of packed dirt. It was not until 1828 that a one story brick structure was built for a school, and then in 1845 to 1856 a two-story frame structure was used.

In 1856 an eight-room building was erected at the cost of $1,400, and the villagers were very proud of it. However, it was not until 1876 that the first high school class was graduated in the town.

I wonder what those old school-masters (and pupils) would think if they could come back now and see the pretentious school buildings that are the pride of the city?

WAGE BOOST OPPOSED BY MANUFACTURERS

Increase Not Fair To Men in Service, They Say

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—(AP)—The president of the National Association of Manufacturers called on the War Labor Board today to "be fair to those who fight as well as those who work for victory" by standing firm on the Little Steel wage formula.

Asserting that neither a general wage increase nor a general price increase would be in the public interest now, Robert M. Gaylord added in a statement prepared for submission to the board:

"It is unfortunate that a decision on this issue has been postponed until this time when circumstances make it a political football."

Containing that only 25 percent of the nation's workers would benefit by relaxation of wage controls, Gaylord said all workers would have to pay the bill.

Businessmen, he said, fall into two groups: those who could pay higher wages out of excess profits and those who could remain in business only by adding the pay increases to their selling prices.

In the case of the first group, he asserted, "so long as excess profits are set at 95 percent, the treasury, not the employer, will then take the loss of virtually all reduction in business profits resulting from higher wages."

On the second class "either prices will have to be increased or else these companies will go out of business and their workers will join the unemployed."

Rep. Monroney (D-Okla.), a ranking member of the House banking committee, insisted today that Congress should be given a chance to "approve or disapprove any modification of the Little Steel formula."

IMPORTANT JOB TO BE GIVEN TO EX-WPB CHIEF

Donald Nelson Expected To Handle U. S. Interest in Rebuilding Europe

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—(AP)—Donald M. Nelson appears due for adoption into President Roosevelt's family of personal aides and emissaries, charged with helping restore ravaged economies of other countries and enlisting them as customers for American goods.

Mr. Roosevelt's letter accepting Nelson's resignation as War Production Board chairman and asking him to take a new position described the forthcoming assignment as a "high post of major importance" in paving the way for "postwar economic cooperation with other nations."

It is generally believed the president intends for Nelson to work outside the framework of existing agencies dealing with foreign trade—the state and commerce departments and the foreign economic administration.

In view of this belief, most of the weekend speculation revolved around these alternatives: First, that Nelson might head a new government agency—a guess that Nelson did not confirm for reporters; second, and more likely, that the former WPB chairman with a small staff and perhaps a new title would merely expand his present role as Mr. Roosevelt's special envoy and counselor on matters of overseas trade and economic rehabilitation.

Patching up the tattered Chinese war effort was the primary aim of Nelson's recent journey to Chungking. However, he is known to have ambitious plans for the industrial exploitation of China's vast labor resources after the war through the purchase of American machinery and capital equipment.

This project, if successful, might enable a friendly China to supply her own and other markets for cheap goods, thus depriving unfriendly Japan of a major economic weapon.

Associates of the former Sears Roebuck vice president have suggested that Mr. Roosevelt plan to use Nelson's merchandising experience on a major scale. Nelson's leadership in the world-beating war production job of American industry would give him tremendous prestige as a representative of American business.

BOMBINGS ARE HEAVY BUT COST IS HIGH

Millionth Ton Dropped This Week on Germany

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—(AP)—The Army Air Forces have dropped their millionth ton of bombs in this war, it was announced today. This total was reached on Sept. 28 in the attack of the synthetic oil refinery at Merseburg-Leuna, in the center of Germany.

Almost half the total, 432,000, has been dropped since D-Day on June 6, Gen. Henry H. Arnold, chief of the AAF, reported.

Citing figures covering all bombings from Dec. 7, 1941, to Sept. 28 of this year in all theaters, Arnold noted that hitting the enemy with his great tonnage has not been without cost.

There have been 72,000 air force battle casualties—dead, missing, prisoners and wounded—and 5,300 non-battle casualties made up of dead, missing, sick and injured.

Over-all plane losses amount to approximately 42,000. Of these 14,600 aircraft have been lost on combat missions and an additional 9,900 have been lost overseas from non-combat causes. In the continental United States 17,500 planes have been lost.

DIES OF BROKEN NECK

Typically American (AN EDITORIAL)

As American as a Man with his Newspaper . . .

How frequently we have heard the expressions, "A boy and his dog," and "A sailor and his ship." Such ideas just go together because of constant associations, just like headlines on news stories.

READING NEWSPAPERS is an old American custom dating back to the times of the American Weekly Mercury of Philadelphia and the initial publishing ventures of Benjamin Franklin, who started the Pennsylvania Gazette in 1739.

Whether it be at the breakfast table over the coffee cup (another American tradition) or after the evening meal, the NEWSPAPER is one of the basic needs of the American family for children, adolescents, grown-ups and old folks.

Newspapers are read day in and day out—week after week—so that every member of the family can follow the course of events at home and abroad. Americans, the best informed people of the World, lean heavily upon their newspapers for educational ideas, slants on living, and developments in industrial, domestic and farm economy. Progress in the field of business in the World's busiest Nation is charted daily in newspaper columns.

What to eat, what to wear, where to shop, what to do in the leisure hours—all are questions answered.

And when Americans took up arms to defeat totalitarianism—when G. I. Joe and millions of his brothers and sisters joined him in uniform—many millions of newspapers went along to camps, training centers, and to front line positions. Second only to letters from loved ones, the newspapers have been an integral link with home . . . the breath of the America for which he is fighting . . . the America to which he is returning . . . where he will live, and love and grow old and where he will always have an opportunity to read his NEWSPAPER.

The Record-Herald joins with the thousands of newspapers throughout the Nation in observance of National Newspaper Week—October 1-8.

303 Jap Ships Sunk By Allies in Month

By LEONARD MILLIMAN

(By the Associated Press)

At least 1,220 Japanese surface craft were destroyed or damaged last month, including 303 ocean going ships definitely sunk, a recapitulation of Allied communiques disclosed today.

No other month has approached it for sheer numbers—August had an overall total of some 800 including about 175 ships unquestionably sunk—although some may have surpassed it in tonnage.

Two-thirds of the September total consisted of barges, luggers, sampans, rivercraft and other small boats.

The losses that really hurt Japan were the 303 transports, freighters, tankers, coastal vessels and warships sent to the bottom. Of these 201 were sunk by planes and warships of Adm. Chester W. Nimitz and Gen. Douglas MacArthur's commands, mostly in and around the Philippines. The remaining 102 were divided almost equally between American submarines, British subs, and China-based planes.

American air forces in China lost their fourth advanced base when Japanese armies trying to split the country in two overran Tanchuk in southeast China. Maj. Gen. Claire L. Chennault's 14th Air Force had already destroyed their own base at Tanchuk as they did their airdromes at Kweilin, threatened by Nipponese armies only 330 miles away.

A Chinese spokesman blamed lack of aid for the poor showing of Chiang Kai-Shek's armies. He said all of the American equipment delivered east China forces since Pearl Harbor wouldn't sustain an American division in combat for a week.

"The only real help" in that sector, he said, came from Chennault's air force.

Girl Smuggled Out Of Ireland She Says When Caught in Ohio

YOUNGSTOWN, Oct. 2.—(AP)—A nineteen-year-old girl was held for immigration authorities today after relating how she was smuggled out of Ireland in a coffin aboard a U. S. army bomber and later brought to this country on a Victory ship.

Police Chief John B. Thomas reported the girl, red-haired Elizabeth MacLeod, said she had spent the last three years seeking an American soldier who would marry her and "get me away from the air raids."

Thomas quoted the girl as saying she had become engaged to eight soldiers and four sailors.

The police chief said Miss MacLeod told him all of the 12 were transferred prior to expiration of the required six-month waiting period before an American serviceman in Ireland

Red Attack Increases in Fury In Drive Through Yugoslavia

200,000 NAZIS NOW FACE TRAP

Success in Baltic Battle Looms for Russians Too

By DANIEL DE LUCE

MOSCOW, Oct. 2.—(AP)—Russian fighterbombers swarmed over Yugoslavia in round-the-clock raids on German forces as Russian ground troops gained steadily today along a curving, mountainous front 70 to 100 miles south-east of Belgrade in a drive that is bottling up an estimated 200,000 Nazi troops in the lower Balkans.

The Germans were defending fiercely their Balkan life line southeast of the Yugoslav capital, but yesterday Red Army troops, with Marshal Tito's Yugoslav Partisans acting as advance scouts, dented Nazi defenses another 23 miles to within 43 miles of the Belgrade-Nis railway, Moscow announced.

Soviet pilots today reported silencing 50 enemy batteries, destroying five military trains and knocking out scores of trucks

SEARCH FOR MAID AND BABY SPREADS

Housemaid, Child Disappear Saturday Night

DETROIT, Oct. 2.—(AP)—State, county and local police joined in a widespread search today for four-month-old Robert King and a youthful housemaid who disappeared Saturday night from the home of the child's parents.

The parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence King, returned from a show to find the maid, employed through a newspaper advertisement a week ago, and the child missing.

On the strength of reports that a young girl carrying an infant had made inquiries concerning trains to Pittsburgh, police wired a description of the maid and the child to authorities of that city and watched all bus and railroad stations here.

FINAL CHECK-UP ON PARK DRIVE TO BE TUESDAY

Committee Chairmen To Meet
In Washington Hotel
At 8 P. M.

Committee chairmen of the Washington Park fund raising campaign are to meet at the Washington Hotel Tuesday at 8 P. M. for a final check-up, A. B. Murray, the general chairman, said Monday afternoon.

W. L. O'Brien and Robert A. Craig, he said, were attempting to contact personally all of the committee heads to explain to them that the time has come to determine just where the campaign stands.

The campaign to raise $38,000 for the development of what has been known for years as Perry's Park started a few weeks after the Rotary Club put the project in motion by buying the park with the aid of the YMCA board and turning it over to the newly created Washington Park Association, Inc., for its development and with a snug sum in the treasury toward improvements.

The campaign chairman said the directors want to know now just where the project stands financially and added that subcommittee chairmen would be expected to turn in their cash on hand and pledge at the Tuesday night meeting.

The campaign was scheduled to end September 30. Although no definite figures have been compiled, Murray intimated that the $38,000 goal had not been reached. He added that efforts to raise the money needed for the development would be resumed later, if necessary.

The campaign is being interrupted now, he explained, so it will not interfere with the forthcoming sixth war loan campaign, tentatively scheduled to begin on Armistice Day (Nov. 11) and end on Pearl Harbor Day (Dec. 7).

ANOTHER TIN CAN COLLECTION HERE

Leave Prepared Cans at Curb
Early Saturday

Another tin can collection will take place throughout the city Saturday and everyone who can do so is asked to place prepared tin cans at the curb where they may be readily reached by the collectors, who are scheduled to start collecting around 8 A. M. Saturday.

Tin is still a vital war necessity and the salvage work has been much, by reason of the paucity of response of the public, to meet the shortage.

SPANISH CLASS TO BE HELD AT NIGHT AT WHS

Conversational Class Is To Be Organized Tuesday at 7:30 P. M.

Washingtonians who always have had a yearning to learn Spanish will have an opportunity to get a speaking knowledge of the language.

Miss Mary Elizabeth Wood, Spanish teacher at WHS, is organizing a night class in conversational Spanish. The first meeting will be Tuesday at 7:30 P. M. in room 112 of the high school building. Those attending the class session are asked to use the North North Street entrance to the high school building.

Miss Wood said she had been requested by a number of people to begin a class of conversational Spanish and emphasized the work will be done without a textbook and without written examinations.

She pointed out the government's stress on the good neighbor policy and trade relations with South American countries. "Business opportunities for the bi-lingualist will be innumerable after the war," Miss Wood commented. She explained that language is one of the best means of meeting on a common ground.

Miss Wood herself has studied in Mexico for the past two summers. In her Spanish classes at the high school she stresses conversation to help students get more than a reading knowledge of the language. In the night class, however, fluent oral Spanish will be the goal.

WAYNE FARM BUREAU COUNCIL MEETING

Group Hospitalization Is Topic
Discussed

Group hospitalization was the leading topic of discussion at the Wayne Farm Bureau Council meeting held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Smith.

It was brought out that group hospitalization had proven effective in some places, and that campaigns are now under way in Wyandot, Fairfield and Belmont counties.

It was also brought out that health of rural selective service men was not as good as urban residents.

G. E. Andrews of the Farm Bureau, was a speaker at the meeting. Other topics discussed at the meeting included taxation, monopolies and cartels.

from the Dutch coastal loop.

Gen. Eisenhower today advised inhabitants of the Dutch islands in the estuary of the Schelde, west of Antwerp, to evacuate the islands immediately in view of the likelihood of a "severe and prolonged aerial bombardment."

Led by hard-fighting armor, the British drove five miles north of the village of Oss, at the northern corner of their salient, to the Maas (Meuse), and organized a front commanding the Nazi defense line three miles east of 'S Hertogenbosch.

It was through 'S Hertogenbosch that the Germans were attempting to keep open a safety valve between the British cutoff and the broad Holland deep, an estuary of the Mass (Meuse).

A correspondent reported increasing signs of a pull-out through this tightening gap of tens of thousands of German troops still in southwestern Holland.

Still striking for the long Nijmegen bridge across the Waal Rhine, the Germans sent tanks, flamethrowers and infantry beating against the Tommies' line northeast and southeast of the city, but they were broken up by rocket-firing typhoon attacks. British heavy guns and infantry steel.

Some groups of 15 to 20 infiltrated into the British lines but they were wiped out today.

Battle Of Italy

Americans of the Fifth Army yesterday beat back German counterattacks on Monte Battaglia, lofty dominating height on the road to Imola, for the fourth straight day and captured neighboring Monte Cappella after a bitter battle, the Allied command announced today.

The skies over most of the Italian front cleared after nearly a week of frequent rains, enabling the Mediterranean Allied air force to take an active role supporting the Doughboys.

At least one enemy attempt to counterattack was broken up by a bombing attack and other German concentrations of artillery posi-

Garret Ramey Resigns as Committeeman Here

Washington C. H. will be temporarily without a veteran's re-employment committeeman.

Garret Ramey, who for a year filled the position, has resigned, effective last Sunday. He said Monday he had resigned because of his health.

Just who Ramey's successor will be or when he will be appointed today remained conjectural. Howard D. Fogle, chairman of the selective service board here, could not be reached for comment.

During the time he held the position, Ramey said 180 servicemen had come back here. It was Ramey's job, working in close cooperation with the selective service board, the veterans' administration and the United States Employment Service, to help these servicemen find jobs—either their old ones or new ones.

Most of them, Ramey said, are working at the AFI. Others took their old jobs and still others established businesses of their own. Since the passage of the GI bill of rights in the summer session of Congress, Ramey has explained the benefits of the bill to returning veterans.

On the Adriatic coast there were heavy patrol engagements as the Eighth Army cleared the last of the Nazis from Savigno and struck on across the Fiumicino, where the enemy was occupying the far bank in strength.

ish units advancing beyond Mont-albano reached the Fiumicino's banks. The enemy dug in and has supported by self-propelled artillery on the far banks of the river.

Southwest of Tribola the Eighth Army began attacking Monte Reggiano and Borgh. The Germans were using substantial artillery concentrations along the entire Adriatic sector.

Americans of other Fifth Army units also were encountering strong enemy shelling as well as quick minefields as they inched forward through the mountains.

The possibility of both the Eighth and Fifth armies being able to resume fullscale attacks in a few days was seen with the clearing of the weather. Mountain storms which flooded roads, creeks and rivers have been a big factor in bringing the Italian offensive almost to a standstill.

Front reports indicate elements of eight Nazi divisions are facing the Fifth in the center of the line and 12 are opposite the Eighth. Seven others are holding the Ligurian coast and the Franco-Italian border. Many of these divisions however are depleted in combat strength.

Soviet progress toward the Morava Valley route of the Belgrade-Greece railway was the only important advance claimed today along the entire eastern front.

On the northern flank of the eastern front, a dispatch to Pravda declared, the "hour of liberation is near for Riga."

Some 50 miles due east of Riga Red Army assault troops widened a gap in the enemy line to more than 60 miles, the front line report said.

The Germans clung stubbornly

A German counterattack with a tank division was beaten back with heavy losses.

Pravda's forecast of the quick liberation of Riga made a strong impression in Moscow, for the Russian press usually is ultra conservative in discussing military prospects.

The enfranchisement of the American Negro may now be regarded as complete. Newspapers have just been printing pictures of the first Negro master of a Liberty ship. His name is Capt. Hugh Mulzac. There are other Negro captains by this time, but Captain Mulzac will be remembered as the first in this field. His first ship was, appropriately, named the Booker T. Washington, for the great Negro who was a pioneer in other lines.
Capt. Mulzac has sailed the seas for 39 years. His crew consists mainly of Negroes. The Navy has begun to commission Negroes as officers, and Negro masters have been assigned to some other Liberty ships.
The seafaring life for black men is a novelty in this country, but there is no evident reason why Negroes should be barred from it.

Political Housecleaning
Every American housewife knows the salutary effect of a thorough housecleaning now and then. Governor Thomas E. Dewey is reminding the nation's voters that Uncle Sam today is the biggest single house-keeper in the world. For the past twelve years the house has been littered up with the daily dishes left over from thousands of wasteful job-hungry employees. There has been so much moving around, and so many folks coming and going through the house that nobody has bothered much about cleaning up.
Dewey is urging the nation to undertake this task so important to public welfare. It is a good thing to open the doors, send everybody outside, spank the dust out of musty closets and clear the air. By electing a Republican Congress this November to accompany Governor Dewey to the White House next January, the whole country will rejoice at the spectacle of new brooms sweeping clean. All those piled-up bureaus, those cluttered filing cabinets, those crazy-quilt departments, so much like Fibber McGee's famous clothes closet, can stand a thorough going-over. It is proposed to do the job better, more systematically, and more vigorously than it has ever been done before. Millions of American taxpayers are eagerly waiting for this to begin.

Election Uncertainties
When will the name of the next President be known? If there is a landslide, it will be on Wednesday, Nov. 8. Otherwise, perhaps not till three or four weeks later.
The catch is the soldier vote. More than 2,000,000 men and women in the armed forces have already applied for absentee ballots, with more applications arriving daily. In 11 states, with 116 electoral votes, the soldiers' ballots will not be counted for some time. Pennsylvania, with 200,000 to 300,000 servicemen's votes expected, will not count them till Nov. 22. California's counting day is Nov. 24. Rhode Island waits till Dec. 4, and North Dakota till Dec. 5. The election might easily turn on these 116 electoral votes.
Though of course the soldiers may divide between parties much as civilians do,

Unoccupied throughout the occupation of the rest of France, the mansion, called Elysee, has been cared for by two old Army pensioners and their families, who tenderly wrapped up furniture, pictures and drapes, and kept the gardens blooming with France's red, white and blue tricolors.

The Philippine situation is reassuring and consoling. It was a bitter pill when Americans were driven out of those islands at the beginning of the war, with many left behind as Japanese prisoners, in bondage and suffering. There was never any doubt as to the eventual outcome, but the task was necessarily long and hard. Now redemption is under way, and every day adds to its progress.
The Japanese are being driven out, and scattered troops and air forces remaining in the islands are destroyed or expelled. Only recently more than 400 Japanese vessels and small craft were sunk or damaged and nearly a thousand Jap planes destroyed.
In this record General Douglas MacArthur, Admiral Chester W. Nimitz and Admiral William F. Halsey must find large satisfaction. The former, who was so greatly saddened by the enslavement and torture of his Filipinos has seemed somewhat removed from the active operation of winning back the islands. But he probably has borne a larger share in their redemption than most observers realize. The Nimitz job speaks for itself. There is honor enough for both. As for Admiral Halsey, his naval operations are winning highest praise.

Washington at a Glance
By JACK STINNETT
WASHINGTON — With the President's first self-designated "political speech" out of the way, this campaign will take on an entirely different complexion, according to political observers here.
It's no secret that strategists in both parties are alarmed over the apparent lack of interest of the voters in the presidential race. Reports along the line from Gov. Thomas E. Dewey's campaign tour have frequently emphasized the smallness of the crowds. Republican leaders attribute this to the absence of men in the armed forces, to the fact that almost every one else is busy with war work and to the fact that the Dewey battle plan calls for emphasis on local and state organizations rather than on making a triumphal parade across the nation.
However, it is the Democrats who are most concerned with this seeming lethargy. Politicians on both sides of the fence are practically unanimous in the opinion that an extremely light vote in November will work to the disadvantage of President Roosevelt.
That's why the Oct. 5 speech of the President already has been described as a sort of pep talk at which party workers in about 125,000 voting districts have been urged to assemble at least ten voters around their radios.
Persons close to the White House are now predicting that the President won't stop with his two announced speeches but will make from three to five more before election day. They say that several of these will be made in other places than Washington. In other words that the President may after all make a little political tour of his own, in spite of his former announcement that he didn't expect to campaign in the usual way.
They point to the fact that the sweep of the war across Europe has lessened the executive load considerably. Also, his meeting with Prime Minister Churchill in Quebec has gotten pressing plans for the mop-up of Germany and the war in the

THE ESTABLISHMENT of a fund for the promotion of research in physical medicine by Bernard Baruch is a forward looking step. departments in that specialty in most New York hospitals and in many others over the country, and persuaded the medical profession of the value of massage, heat, cold and electricity in the treatment of disease.
But it is still a neglected subject. Every hospital as soon as it opens establishes a drug room, but only one in twenty sets aside a place for physical therapy. The doctor you call in for such ailments as lumbago, sciatica, pleurisy, a cold, or a pain in the abdomen reaches at once for his prescription pad, but seldom rolls up his sleeves to give you a massage or apply a hot or cold compress. And how often does he order physical treatments that can be given only by experts—massage, diathermy. Every home has a medicine closet, but the only implement for physical therapy likely to be found in the average American castle is a hot water bag. Once in a thousand times you find a sun lamp.
Yet here is a whole armamentarium of treatment which is immediate and powerful in its effects, which never, as is the case with drugs, create a habit and which leaves no disagreeable after effects.
QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
A. L. P.—You recently stated that ordinary baldness was not to be confused with alopecia areata which is a form of baldness that can be cured. How can alopecia areata be distinguished and what is the cure?
A. In alopecia areata there is rapid and complete loss of hair in patches. Gradually on the bald patches new hair grows in. It occurs in people of any age, even quite young. The treatment usually given is by sunlight, ultraviolet light and other light treatments, and by stimulating external applications containing sulphur, resorcin, capsaicin or tar. But the condition usually runs its course not much influenced by treatment.
Easy to Learn
To show how easy it is to learn forms of physical treatment, I will quote a famous passage from the works of Mr. Baruch's father. He is speaking of the hot compress for abdominal pain:
"I will simplify my apparatus by limiting it to a basin, two towels and a tea kettle filled with boiling water. Have the patient lie flat on another towel which goes under the hips. The majority of hot applications fail for one of two reasons—they are either too hot or too cold. Hot applications should be between 125 and 165 degrees F. Pick one of your towels of boiling water and place it in the other, and twist the two ends of the dry towel until most of the boiling water is squeezed out. Then, having anointed the skin of the patient with olive oil or vaseline, spread the hot wet towel over the abdominal surface and rapidly cover it with the ends of the towel he is lying on, pinning them together over his middle."
"Usually in less than sixty seconds you will get a relief that can be obtained from no other application that I know of."

SOMEWHERE IN THE SOUTH-WEST PACIFIC—We have heard wonderful tales about the lengths the man will go to in order to get a good seat for your show. They have been known to arrive from a distant base the night before, set up a tent near the theater area and take their places in the morning.
They bring K rations and canteens and when the PX (Army store) opens, some of them are dispatched for candy bars.
I think the high man is the Signal Corps lineman who announced his intention of seeing the show but made no effort to get a seat. Came show-time and the area was packed with about 10,000 G.I's.
Our hero surveyed the crowd and then using his safety belt and spurs, shinnied up into a tree and from this vantage point had a clear view of everything, far above the less ingenious crowd.
You might think that the arrival of a show is a big event, not to be missed by anyone. This does not hold true. While the show was in progress last night with Jack Benny, Martha Tilton, Carole Landis, and myself, about 60 or so men sat in the nearby recreation hall reading or playing cards.
These are the men who, more than anything else, crave the one thing that the Army mercilessly destroys—privacy. And they will forego the show for two blessed hours of peace and quiet.
I sympathize with this desire and have a strong hunch that I'd have more or less the same inclinations under the same circumstances.
Before I left the States I heard much about tonettes, ocarinas and other instruments allegedly easy to play and soothing to morale. Well, throughout Africa last year and New Guinea now, I have yet to run across anybody who plays the darned things.
They do want harmonicas, though. I've been collecting them to send to men overseas so if you

IT WAS TEN days later. Mrs. Reynolds lay in bed propped up a little on pillows. It seemed to hurt less when she was that way, or rather it didn't hurt at all. When Anne read to her she could lie very still and feel quite at ease and happy. Anne was reading "The Good Earth," which she'd read before. Mrs. Reynolds had wanted her to re-read something, she wanted to hear something again, something which would flow on like familiar music. And it was nice to hear about China, which was so far away and yet which seemed to move nearer in the pages of a book.
Sometimes she only half listened and thought about other things at the same time. Anne's voice was like music and she had missed her so. Now she didn't mind the pain so much, since it was the pain which had brought Anne back. But she wouldn't say anything about her having been gone. As long as the subject was never mentioned, it was easier to pretend Anne never had been gone and that awful scene in the hall was only a nightmare that she must forget. Since Laura had been at least civil to Anne, it was better than before. The only trouble was in herself. She had to lie in bed now. She hadn't been in her chair since falling out of it. Maybe she would never be in it again, inasmuch as it had been taken out of the room. Maybe this was the last stage, the helpless stage, when she had to lie in bed until death came.
Lying in bed she thought more about dying than she had when in her chair and able to wave her stick to command obedience to her wishes. They had taken her stick away, too. When Laura had snatched it from her hands that day in the hall, the power to command had gone with it. The funny part was she didn't want to command very much now that Anne was back. It was easier to lie very still and be read to. Anyway, everyone seemed gentler now, even Laura. And Dr. Banning was kind. She smiled faintly, remembering how she had defied him the day she

I think I've got this relativity problem licked. It was all made pretty clear to me by the jeep. Coming home from the show last night and driving myself, mind you, I was appalled at my own reckless speed.
Looking down at the speedometer, I found that I was doing a vicious 34 miles an hour. But that's what I mean by relativity—in a jeep on a bumpy road in New Guinea, a man driving at 35 miles an hour is going straight to perdition, you mark my words.
But there is nothing relative about New Guinea dust. There is something fixed, definite, absolute. If there is traffic on the road the dust rises up in a heavy mass and demonstrates the latest technique in choking and blinding.
If, on the other hand, there is no traffic on the road, the dust just hangs around and waits, looking slightly more innocent, but really just as lethal.
You Can't Win
The optimist thinks that if he can only pass that car in front of him that seems to be causing all the trouble all will be well; but he's just living in a fool's paradise.
There is always one more car to pass and even if a comparatively clear stretch of road looms ahead, the beatitude will be dispelled by oncoming traffic which raises just as much dust as the going away kind. It's no use, brother, you can't win.
If you want a cross-section of America just sit down to lunch at any enlisted men's mess. My luncheon partners yesterday were Pvt. Dick Wolfis of Muskegon, Mich., Pvt. Frank A. However, it is the Democrats who are most concerned with this seeming lethargy. Politicians on both sides of the fence are practically unanimous in the opinion that an extremely light vote in November will work to the disadvantage of President Roosevelt.
That's why the Oct. 5 speech of the President already has been described as a sort of pep talk at which party workers in about 125,000 voting districts have been urged to assemble at least ten voters around their radios.
Persons close to the White House are now predicting that the President won't stop with his two announced speeches but will make from three to five more before election day. They say that several of these will be made in other places than Washington. In other words that the President may after all make a little political tour of his own, in spite of his former announcement that he didn't expect to campaign in the usual way.
They point to the fact that the sweep of the war across Europe has lessened the executive load considerably. Also, his meeting with Prime Minister Churchill in Quebec has gotten pressing plans for the mop-up of Germany and the war in the happen to have one, do send it to me. My address is 40 East 66th street, New York City. I'll see that it gets to a serviceman and he'll get your name, too, so that he can thank you personally. The men prefer chronicles.

I think I've got this relativity problem licked. It was all made pretty clear to me by the jeep. Coming home from the show last night and driving myself, mind you, I was appalled at my own reckless speed.
Looking down at the speedometer, I found that I was doing a vicious 34 miles an hour. But that's what I mean by relativity—in a jeep on a bumpy road in New Guinea, a man driving at 35 miles an hour is going straight to perdition, you mark my words.
But there is nothing relative about New Guinea dust. There is something fixed, definite, absolute. If there is traffic on the road the dust rises up in a heavy mass and demonstrates the latest technique in choking and blinding.
If, on the other hand, there is no traffic on the road, the dust just hangs around and waits, looking slightly more innocent, but really just as lethal.
You Can't Win
The optimist thinks that if he can only pass that car in front of him that seems to be causing all the trouble all will be well; but he's just living in a fool's paradise.
There is always one more car to pass and even if a comparatively clear stretch of road looms ahead, the beatitude will be dispelled by oncoming traffic which raises just as much dust as the going away kind. It's no use, brother, you can't win.
If you want a cross-section of America just sit down to lunch at any enlisted men's mess. My luncheon partners yesterday were Pvt. Dick Wolfis of Muskegon, Mich., Pvt. Frank A. Bridegroom Recently Returned from South Pacific Where He Served 28 Months; Three Witness Ceremony

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Hidy of Greenfield, are announcing the marriage of their daughter, Martha, to Cpl. Maurice E. Farmer, son of Mr. Hugh Farmer of New Holland. The single ring ceremony was read by the Rev. Harold B. Twining, pastor of the First Baptist Church, at three-thirty o'clock Saturday afternoon, September thirtieth at the parsonage.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Miss Wanda Arnold, of this city, who chose a fall ensemble of black with black and white accessories. Her flowers were a shoulder corsage of white carnations, pinned to the shoulder of her two-piece suit.

For her marriage, the personable and lovely bride of striking brunette coloring wore a navy blue dressmaker two-piece suit with which she combined blue and white accessories. Pinned to the shoulder of her smart wedding ensemble was a corsage of white carnations.

The bridegroom chose the bride's brother, Joseph Hidy of Greenfield, to attend him as best man, and Mrs. Richard Kirkpatrick also witnessed the simple and impressive ceremony.

The new Mrs. Farmer, a graduate of Washington C. H. High School, has resigned her position in the offices of Dr. C. L. Ford, and plans to join her husband in the near future.

TO AMERICAN WOMEN ASKING—

"Will Defeat of Germany Lessen the Need for Saving Used Fats?"

—THE GOVERNMENT ANSWERS "NO!"

LEE MARSHALL

ON THE contrary, Mrs. America, the need for saving used cooking fats will be as great or greater than ever. Victory over Germany still leaves the Japs in possession of the Dutch East Indies, the Philippines and Malaya—countries from which we formerly imported about one billion pounds of fats and oils each year.

Even victory over Japan will not ease the situation immediately. Not for a year or more can these areas be brought back to pre-war production levels.

In the meantime, the need for your used fats will be as acute as ever for these reasons:

1 Even after European victory, we still have Japan to beat. Vast supplies of ammunition, medicines, parachutes, rubber boats, soaps and other battlefield essentials must keep on going to our fighting men in a steady stream. These all require fats to make.

2 We must help in the rehabilitation of liberated countries, such as Greece, Norway and the Netherlands, with medicines, machinery, etc.

3 Many factories now producing for war will turn to manufacturing the civilian goods we need so urgently. These factories will consume vast quantities of industrial fats.

American farmers are doing everything possible to build up domestic production of fats and oils. But during the next 12 months, because of a smaller hog kill and reduced yields of some oil-seed crops, we expect that approximately a billion-and-a-third pounds less of fats will be produced.

Need Greater Than Ever

Therefore, more than ever, salvaging used cooking fats is an important resource on which the country must continue to lean in order to tide us over.

Saving used fats is not a glamorous task. It takes effort. But it is one that only you, the American housewife, can perform for the country. We ask you to continue the wonderful job you are doing to help speed final Victory.

World Series To Be Played in St. Louis Browns Nose Out Tigers in Final Game

By JOE REICHLER
(By The Associated Press)

America's third wartime baseball season ended yesterday with the St. Louis Browns winning their first pennant in the tightest race in American League history.

A 5-2 victory over the New York Yankees coupled with a Detroit defeat by Washington, 4-1, gave the flag to the Browns by one game, breaking a tie that had existed since Friday.

With all due credit to the Tigers for their amazing climb from seventh place on July 13, most fans were pulling for the Browns, not only because the Sewellmen never had won a pennant but also because of their thrilling comeback after they apparently had dropped out of the running. Just three weeks ago, they had skidded to third place after leading virtually all season.

With Signum "Jack" Jakucki hurling a six-hitter before 37,815 fans, the largest St. Louis crowd of the season, the Browns swept a four-game series from the Yankees, to climax a great stretch drive, during which they won 11 out of 12.

Two homers by Chet Laabs and another by Vern Stephens accounted for all the Browns' runs.

Emil (Dutch) Leonard, 34-year-old knuckleballer, was the Tiger Tamer, hurling a four-hitter before a dazed crowd of 45,565 fans.

Thus the Browns, who had finished as high as second only twice before—in 1902, their first season, and in 1922, when they missed the pennant by one game—won the right to meet St. Louis' National League representative, the Cardinals, in the World Series opening Wednesday.

The Yankees failed in an attempt to win their fourth straight flag, dropping to third, the lowest in the Joe McCarthy regime. The Yankees put up a game fight, but faded in the last week, ending with four straight losses to the Browns.

The Boston Red Sox fell back when their ace pitcher, Tex Hughson, and their ace hitter, Bobby Doerr, were called into the service.

The second division clubs were Cleveland and Philadelphia tied for fifth, Chicago seventh and Washington eighth. The Mackmen won both games from the Indians 5-2 and 5-0 to tie Cleveland.

For the Senators, it marked their first last-place finish since Clark Griffith took charge in 1912. The Cards won their eighth flag and their third in succession by a 14½ game margin, ended the season by splitting a twin bill with the Giants, losing 6-5 in 13 innings and winning the second 10-5.

Pittsburgh nosed out Cincinnati for the runner-up spot on the final day, splitting a twin-bill with Philadelphia winning the opener 9-1 and losing the nightcap 7-1, while the Reds bowed to Brooklyn 6-5. Cincinnati finished third, 1½ games behind.

The Chicago Cubs rallied to snatch fourth place from the Giants. The Giants led the second division followed by Boston, Brooklyn and Philadelphia.

19th Hole At Country Club

The golf course here is a tough one for women golfers. There are no tees especially for them and the holes are long ones. But in spite of that, Miss Ruth Sexton turned in a 47—her best score to date and one that compares favorably with those of the husky men.

Scribbles in the Pro's note books show:

Paul Spencer, a left handed golfer, is among the new members at the club.

A. B. Murray has refinished his wood clubs with surprisingly good results. He uses a special brush for the job.

Hosts for the men's supper Thursday night are John Brown, H. H. Denton, A. E. Weatherly and Charles Layman.

Bill Williams sank his longest putt on the No. 5 green Sunday. It was 25 feet long.

Howard "Dink" Dellinger came out with his longest drive of the season—270 yards on No. 9 hole.

The fall weather is bringing out all the beautiful colors in sweaters as well as trees on the course.

Stephen C. Brown is sporting a new outfit. Departing from traditional golfing wardrobe is Ed Hunt, who plays in his fishing outfit.

Bill Junk and Frank Baker were out for the second time this season.

Walter Rettig chalked up a 39—his best score of the season. Stan Hagerty broke out with his second 36 on Sunday.

William Himmelsbach added his name to the record breakers too. He piled up his best score of 39 while playing with Charles Duntun and O. D. Farquhar.

Two youngsters out playing regularly are Don Denton and Bob Craig, Jr.

Best scores of the week are: Frank Brown, 45; Stan Hagerty, 36; Glen Roseboom, 39; A. E. "Hap" Weatherly, 45; O. D. Farquhar, 41; Walter Rettig, 39; I. L. Humphrey, 41; O. W. House, 42; Troy Junk, 49; Harry Fox, 46; Richard Willis, 47; George Severs, 48; Paul Spencer, 50; H. O. Noland, 48; W. H. Himmelsbach, 39; John Browning, 42; Charles Duntun, 38; Bob Denton, 47; Bob Craig, Jr., 51; Stephen Brown, 54; C. R. Van Zant, 44; Harold Coleman, 51; Ralph Ginter, 51.

By HAROLD HARRISON
COLUMBUS, Oct. 2.—(P)—

Having taken care of the Big Six Conference, Ohio State University's Buckeyes were all set today to get down to the main order of business—a quest for the Big Ten football championship.

The Bucks, with a 54-0 conquest of Missouri behind them, will begin their Western Conference duties here next Saturday with Iowa as their opponent.

State's triumph placed them alongside Miami and Muskingum in the unbeaten and untied class in Ohio. All three will be in action during next Saturday's six-game program. Here is the schedule:

Iowa at Ohio State; Baldwinville at Ohio State; Baldwinville at Ohio State.

Wallace at Denison; Case at Oberlin; Ohio Wesleyan at Bowling Green; Miami at Rochester; Muskingum at Capital.

A crowd of 29,908 fans sat in on Ohio State's impressive 1944 debut. They watched 39 different players in action and saw even the third stringers take a hand in the scoring. They saw a defense that was so tight Missouri reached Ohio State territory only twice.

Carroll Widdoes, serving as head coach of the Bucks for the first time, used his regulars only a few seconds more than half the game. They accounted for four of State's eight touchdowns.

Little Gene Janekko got two touchdowns for the second string squad, and in the closing minutes of the ball game M. N. Hamilton and George Gordon of the third team joined in the merriment by reaching scoring territory.

Three other Ohio State touchdowns didn't count because of penalties. The second team got two of them and the other was on an 87-yard run by the veteran, Les Horvath.

Meanwhile, Miami University continued to dominate the picture among the state's smaller schools. The Redskins chalked up their third straight victory by drubbing western Michigan 32-6.

The Miami triumph was one of five gathered by Ohio schools in six games with out-of-state foes. The only loser was case, which dropped a 32-7 decision to West Virginia. Denison, Bowling Green and Ohio Wesleyan were the other Ohio winners.

Denison pounded out a 40-12 victory over Bethany College to stay in the unbeaten class and Baldwin-Wallace did the same thing by drubbing Oberlin, 35-0. Denison and Baldwin-Wallace have won three games each and each has been tied once.

Bowling Green squeezed past Alma College, 19-6, and Ohio Wesleyan hit the victory trail for the first time with a 35 to 0 conquest of Depauw.

Muskingum's opening game 6-0 victory was recorded Friday night against West Virginia Tech.

Indian Pitcher Released on Bond
CLEVELAND, Oct. 2.—(P)—Joe Heving, the Cleveland Indians' veteran relief pitcher, will appear in Cuyahoga County Juvenile Court sometime this week for a hearing on a paternity warrant. Detective John P. Cisan reported.

The detective said he took the 39-year-old hurler into custody Saturday, following issuance of the warrant on an affidavit sworn to by Miss Emily Pallagy, 27, of Cleveland. He said Miss Pallagy charged the pitcher with being the father of her three-month-old son.

Heving was lodged in the Cuyahoga County jail following his arrest and later released on $300 personal bond, Cisan said.

Hinton's Horses Win Pull Contest
TROY, Oct. 2.—(P)—A team of horses owned by Gene Hinton of Commercial Point, Pickaway County, took top honors in the lightweight division of a pulling contest here Sunday by hauling 5,400 pounds 27 1-2 feet.

The championship heavyweight team, which pulled 6,000 pounds a like distance, was owned by B. Moyer of Greens Fork, Ind.

Thirty-one lightweight teams and 16 heavyweight teams from Indiana and Ohio competed for cash prizes offered by the Ohio Horsepulling Association, Inc.

Navy Beats Army For Service Title
HONOLULU, Oct. 2.—(P)—The Navy is the "servicemen's world series" champion, but the Army sank the sailors' chances at a clean sweep of the seven-game series by taking the final one, 5-3, yesterday.

The Navy clinched the title last Wednesday but the seven-game series was completed to give as many service men as possible a chance to see the former big league players in action.

people believe that the welfare of this nation and its future, as well as the peace of the world depend upon another four years of Roosevelt and the New Deal."

Bricker remarked that Truman had obtained facts as chairman of a Senate committee which investigated the war effort, "so we may be confident that he is revealing the painful truth."

Truman, he continued, wrote for the American magazine in 1942:

"The reasons for the waste and confusion, the committee found, were everywhere the same: the lack of courageous, unified leadership and centralized direction at the top. . . ."

In 1941, Bricker told his audience, Truman said in a radio address:

"M-Day or Mobilization Day came and they didn't even know it until several months later. And then it turned out that the plans available were all based on assumed facts. The assumed facts proved false, and hastily improvised plans had to be substituted."

Bricker declared that the Democratic vice presidential nominee also had criticized Sidney Hillman, chairman of the CIO Political Action Committee supporting President Roosevelt for a fourth term. Hillman then was associated with the War Production Board, Bricker explained.

Bricker speaks in Nashville, Tenn., tonight.

UNEMPLOYMENT PROBLEM AFTER V-E-DAY MINIMIZED BY OHIO WMC OFFICIALS

officials declared war industry cutbacks after Germany's defeat would result in a layoff of an estimated 175,000 Ohio war workers, or five percent of the state's present work force of 3,588,000 persons.

The manpower officials advised that the first American labor strike was on a railroad in 1877, when workers protested a 10 percent wage cut.

GRAIN MARKET NEWS SUMMARY

CHICAGO, Oct. 2.—Wheat rallied today to regain most of the losses suffered in an early break and the December contract advanced about a cent. Other grain futures also turned upward but still were substantially lower than in the previous session. Millers covering flour orders booked under a new and sharply higher subsidy schedule were good buyers in the wheat pit and the December contract gained sharply when shorts tried to cover and found the offerings light.

At the close wheat was 1½¢ higher to 1½¢ lower than Saturday's finish. December 1.64½¢. Corn was 1½¢ lower, December 1.13½¢. Oats were 1½¢ lower, December 1.07½¢. Rye was 1½¢ lower, December 1.07½¢. Barley was 1½¢ higher to 1½¢ lower, December 1.03½¢.

GRAIN CLOSE
CHICAGO, Oct. 2.—Wheat—Dec. 1.64½¢; May 1.61¢. Corn—Dec. 1.13½¢; May 1.11½¢. Oats—Dec. 1.07½¢; May 1.06½¢. Rye—Dec. 1.07½¢; May 1.06½¢. Barley—Dec. 1.03½¢; May 97¢.

CASH GRAIN
CHICAGO, Oct. 2.—Cash wheat No. 2 mixed weevily 1.65½¢; No. 2 mixed 1.66½¢.

Oats No. 1 mixed heavy 65¢; No. 2 white 67½¢; No. 3 white heavy 67½¢. Field seed per hundredweight nominal; timothy $6.25-$6.50; red clover $31.50; alsike $28.50.

cated a reduction in plants affected by cutbacks, to provide a cushion against unemployment.

"Our experience so far with cutbacks is that a substantial number of the workers laid off, women and older persons, withdraw from the labor force and we have had difficulty holding as many as we need," Keenan stated.

"Our estimates would indicate," the directors added, "that war workers who stick to their jobs need have little fear that there will not be plenty of jobs after Germany's defeat. Moreover, the war with Germany is not yet over and we have just made a good start on the job of whipping Japan."

could marry.

The officer said the girl related that six months ago she persuaded an American colonel and a major to hide her in a coffin and transport her from Belfast to Scotland in an army plane.

"Some time later I met a merchant marine from Youngstown who fell in love with me," Thomas quoted her. "He and another sailor smuggled me aboard their ship in a sailors uniform."

She related she was hidden in a locker and remained there for the 28-day crossing. She added the sailor let her out for a few minutes every morning.

"I fainted several times, but I didn't mind. I wanted to get to America so badly," Miss MacLeod said.

Thomas asserted the girl related she was taken ashore, still in a sailor's uniform, when the ship arrived in Boston and that the seaman brought her to Youngstown.

Thomas said police found her there while searching for her room mate, who had fled a welfare home.

The officer said Miss MacLeod reported she had been living for the last month and a half by selling some of the engagement rings her suitors had given her.

The first American labor strike was on a railroad in 1877, when workers protested a 10 percent wage cut.

Wall tiles of a highly decorative character were made as early as the 12th century in Persia.
